

Italy Food Awards: Special Mention for Amaro Don Carlo

An important national milestone has been achieved by Gargiulo Coloniali of Eboli, which on Saturday, March 1st, received the Special Mention in the Liquor Producers category for Amaro Don Carlo during the third edition of the Italy Food Awards, the "Oscars" of Italian agri-food producers, an initiative conceived and organized by journalist Donato Ala Giordano.

The awards gala was held at Villa ReNoir in Legnano (MI) and brought together representatives from many top-tier Made in Italy companies.

Amaro Don Carlo, smooth and elegant, is crafted with 60% walnut husk and a mix of selected herbs and spices, following a formula developed by Angela Caliendo and Carlo Gargiulo, who run Enoteca Gargiulo, founded in 1966 by Carlo's father, Vito, in Eboli, in the province of Salerno.

Amaro Don Carlo was recently relaunched with a new label and a revised formula featuring a lower sugar content, in order to further enhance its aromatic and flavor potential.

"What has been rewarded is the consistency, determination, and the many sacrifices and investments made over the years," said Carlo Gargiulo, owner of Gargiulo Coloniali, who added: "We've come a long way, but our goal is to keep improving, with passion and dedication, in pursuit of a product with strong quality and identity."
